

ADVANCED ONLINE LEARNING PROGRAMS

Enhance and strengthen your skills for more effective online teaching

The best way to demonstrate proficiency in online learning is with a firm foundation in the principles, best practices and implementation of effective online education programs. OLC can help.

OLC offers Certificate and Mastery programs that prepare online instructors, course designers and administrators with essential knowledge, understanding and skills.

Plus, you'll begin applying learning outcomes immediately. You'll also receive documentation showcasing your advanced training to share with current or potential employers or supervisors.

PROGRAM BENEFITS

Global in scope

OLC works with universities, corporations, and associations around the world to improve online education.

No boundaries

Because online has no boundaries, our programs are relevant worldwide, offering the flexibility to use learned skills in any industry, anywhere.

Market preparedness

Achieving excellence in online teaching makes you more marketable and prepared for whatever your career might bring.

Keep current

Programs are continually updated to reflect current best practices and technologies, so graduates can immediately apply learned tools and concepts.

A community of peers

OLC graduates are a network of professionals from around the world who connect, collaborate, and learn together.

EARN CERTIFICATE

Our Online Teaching Certificate Program will prepare you for the conception, implementation, and administration of online learning effectiveness and best practices. You'll collaborate with, and learn from, recognized experts from a variety of institutions and disciplines. Plus you'll get actionable feedback for immediate application upon graduation.

Our Certificate Program includes:

- A 10-week foundation course
- Three electives focused on improving overall competency within a specific area of academic focus
- A final presentation
